

Retail Revolution: how retailers can prepare for an omnichannel future

September 1, 2022

As the boundaries between online and offline shopping blur into one, here is how retailers can prepare for an omnichannel future. Plus: Tell the story of your career using the metaphors of the river or the race. The dark side of empowerment. A board to-do list. Green investing. Arcano's Marta Hervas explains the rise of impact investing. Dr. Carlos Archilla-Cady has become an advocate for disability inclusion, including in space travel. OCBC Bank trader-turned-head-of-HR Jason Ho discusses business-focused human resources. Karim Adaimi takes inspiration from the Lebanese people to show how to face life's challenges. Dipping into the metaverse. What feelings of regret tell us about decision-making. Common ownership's surprising implications for merger approvals, airline ticket prices and more. Breaking the spell of tried-and-tested management models and frameworks. Reaching a better future starts now in the way you imagine it and the steps you take to get there.
